

THE CLIMAX.

WEDNESDAY, - - APRIL 17, 1895.

WANTED.—Four hundred subscribers for The Climax for a live agent can make a good commission. Call at CLIMAX office.

—Jimmie Wilkerson, of Lexington, and his bloodhounds caught a meat thief by the name of Jordan Taylor (colored) near Foxtown a few days ago.

—A Madison county negro was arrested at High Bridge by Constable Ed. Scott for breaking into the houses of Messrs. Grimes and Leavel at Willmore. —Scoop.

—Died, Saturday, April 6th, at his home near, Keene, Jessamine county, in the 91st year of his age, Mr. Whitfield Haydon. Mr. Haydon was well known throughout Central Kentucky and in the former days was prominent in the affairs of the Baptist church, of which he was a member twenty-seven years.

—A Jackson, Breathitt county, jury has sentenced Levi Cape, tried for the murder of William Connel, to death. This will be the second legal hanging for Breathitt in a brief time. Every county in the State should draw on Breathitt for juryman or borrow Breathitt's nerve. —Mt. Vernon Eagle.

—To prisoners, brother, on an examining trial he was held over to court in June without bail.

—Oil was struck at Rugby, Tenn., on the 11th, inst., and the force was so great that tools were blown out and oil flowed at the rate of twenty barrels per hour. Prominent oil men here from Pennsylvania pronounce it equal in quality to the best in Pennsylvania. Land advancing rapidly in price.

—Hurry up Doctor and get that Panola well completed. Oil is now worth more per barrel than at any time in twenty years before.

—Wm. Shipp surrendered himself to the authorities last Wednesday. He claims that he shot the negro Brown in self defense; that Brown was choking him when he fired the fatal shot. The probabilities are that he will be found not guilty as the negro was witness. He will be defended by W. C. P. Breckinridge. The negroes endeavor to make him prosecuted by George Denny, but Mrs. George placed his valuable services at too high a figure, $500, so they had to give up the idea.

—Uncle Bob King has been quite ill for the past two weeks. Miss Lizzie Howard, of Rod House, is visiting friends here. J. C. Richards and crew returned from a trip to Frankfort, with the Asher Lumber Co.'s steamer, about Saturday. —Jimmie Blount, of Jimmie Blount, while digging to put down a side walk near the Rod Lumber Co.'s store last week, dug up the skeleton of a human being. It was a very small one. There was a number of convicts buried here in the L. & N. railroad, and this is probably the skeleton of one of them. —For. Cur. Winchester Democrat.

—Some disguised Coon or disgruntled Booster over at Richmond has sent a long dispatch to the Louisville Post telling about the strong opposition to Gov. McCreary in Madison and how an anti-McCreary man can be elected to the Legislature. If such a Democrat cannot win the Democratic nomination then a Republican can get enough Democratic votes to elect him through five dollars a day and glory. McCreary has done too much for Madison county to merit or receive such treatment as "Tactics," as the gay correspondent subscribers himself, predicts for him. The Post occasionally attacks Gov. McCreary in its editorial columns, as it is privileged to do, but backstabbing the Governor in his own home will rather help him in his Senatorial race. —Mt. Vernon Eagle.

—Eunston for State Senator.

—Hon. C. J. Bronston will, it is thought by those likely to know, announce himself as a candidate for the State Senate. He is a Madison county man and should be honored. He stands well in his district and will carry the full strength of his party.

A Heavenly Waist Society. Mrs. Mary Clement Leavitt, in her travels around the world, found in China a Heavenly Foot Society, the members of which are young men pledged not to marry women whose feet are smaller than natural expansion would produce. She suggests a Heavenly Waist Society might be formed to advantage among the American youth.

An Elopement. Miss Pattie Waggers and Mat Cohen eloped from this point last Thursday and were married in Jeffersonville at 10:30 the same night. Miss Waggers is a daughter of Jailer John Waggers, and Mr. Cohen is one of the best known horsemen in Kentucky. There was no known reason for an elopement as there was no opposition on the part of the family. The romance of the affair seems to be the only cause.

Minnie Letcher Sold. W. T. Deatherage has sold to G. W. Simpson of Lexington, the fine mare Minnie Letcher, by Hylas, 2:23, dam by Byron, 2:25, for $1500. She is the dam of the 2-year-old Emperor Wilkes colt that first sold for $250, and, after a first trial mile, for $200. Mr. Deatherage sold to the same party a 2-year-old gelding by Emperor Wilkes, 2:30, dam by Byron, for $250. These are the best horse sales in Madison county for many months.

A Sad Affliction. Mrs. Sallie Crawford, wife of Harry Crawford, of Doyleville, one of Madison county's best known and well-to-do citizens, became deranged on the 3th inst. She first began to act and talk strangely, declaring that some one was after them and would murder her for their money. Her mania has continued to increase, and it is not violent but appears to be frightened. Mr. and Mrs. Crawford have one child, a daughter, who is a pupil at Wesleyan College at Winchester. The family are connected with our best people. They have the sympathy of every one in this affliction.

To the Public. The columns of the CLIMAX are always free for reports of meetings, entertainments, addresses, etc., if furnished in a reasonable time or before the matter has become stale. We do not care to reprint, nor will we, unless paid for anything which should have properly appeared in the CLIMAX before in other papers. Persons interested will please govern themselves accordingly. We want your news, of all kinds, we want your friendship and a fair share of your business, but shall insist on the observance of the foregoing. Communications received up to 12 o'clock noon on Tuesday, but should be furnished earlier if possible.

—J. W. May has closed his butcher shop on Main street.

Farmers, hunt up Shackelford & Gentry's ad. Something in it.

—Tuesday morning a rain storm struck Richmond and prevailed nearly all day.

—The Builders Firm, Stevenson and Campbell, has been dissolved by mutual consent.

—J. W. Moores has rebuilt his distillery near Waco, and it will be started immediately.

—The King's Daughters party at the Herndon store rooms was a success financially and socially.

—Well, what do you want? Want you to call on Farley Bros. for groceries and hardware.

—A test of Macabees will in all probability be established here. Interested parties have been quietly working at the organization for some days.

—Lynan Parrish was engaged the fore part of the week in loading brick for the Lancaster distillery. He sold them about 30,000, which were shipped Monday.

—R. N. L. & B. will sell round trip tickets to Louisville May 6 to 22 at one and one-third fare, account Louisville Jockey Club meeting. 45-47

—One of Morgan's men, Dr. G. W. Thompson, aged 56, died at his home in Versailles Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. He was a member of Company A, Fifth Kentucky Cavalry in Howard Smith's regiment.

—Mrs. Mullin at Dodge, the mother of Mrs. Jessy, who while on a visit from her home in Ashland was taken down with small pox, has also become a victim to the dread disease. Mrs. Jessy has also recovered.

—Attention of the proper officers is called to the fact that cows are allowed to run at large in the streets of the city. Complaint has been made here, and hence the notice. We have all the law necessary on the subject, and some one is remiss in not carrying out its provisions.

—The health of our town was never better. At no time in its history has there been less sickness than at the present. One of the leading physicians says "it is distastefully healthy." Moral: Richmond is a good place in which to make your home.

—Well! the proper time for planting shade trees has come and gone, and the surrounding Caldwell High School is fast destitute of trees and shrubbery as a hall grown shanghai chicken is of feathers. Some one is to blame. Who is it? and what are your reasons?

—Rev. Carter Helm Jones is continuing his series of meetings at the Baptist church and holds the attention of his hearers closely with his logic and the great earnestness evidenced in his sermons. No one can hear him and not be the better for having done so. My his sermons do much good is the wish of all Christians.

—Several of our lovers of the marly art went to Lexington to see Corbett. They came back much pleased with him, and admired his action and the perfect control he had over himself.

—The meeting is still progressing and the attention of the citizens is riveted there. Lexington appears unusually dull for this season of the year.

—Mrs. John G. Fee, the venerable wife of the respected founder of Berea College, died of consumption at her home in Berea Sunday night, the 7th inst. Her age was seventy-five. In September last she and her husband celebrated their golden wedding. It was then remarked that the days of the aged lady would be few.

—There will be a county sale next Saturday afternoon and night in the Herndon store rooms on Main street by the Fayetteville League. (Department of charity and help.) That the public may understand and patronize other things under the auspices of the League, they wish to say all revenue is expended in relieving the deserving poor and destitute.

—The lecture at the Court House next Monday night by Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge will be one of the literary treats of the season, judging from the press reports of the same as delivered in other cities. Do not lose this opportunity. Admission 50 cents. Reserved seats now on sale at White's Drug Store, no extra charge.

—The revival series of meetings at the Methodist church closed last Thursday night. Rev. Pickett returning to his home at Willmore to enjoy much needed rest. About 40 persons confessed conversion and sanctification and were baptized. On Sunday as a result of the meeting Rev. A. Redd, pastor, baptized six persons and received into the church seven or eight new members.

—The Richmond Silver Band will give another open air concert in the court house square Friday night and will as we are informed, continue to thus favor the citizens. The Band has secured the services of Prof. Herbert, a teacher who has for equals and none his superior in the State. Under his able instruction and discipline the band is fast approaching that perfection that gives pleasure to their hearers. The boys are in need of a little pecuniary assistance, and a cheerful response to their appeal will be appreciated. They give their time and energy, and have cost them no little sum to pay all the demands upon their treasury. Come to their aid and they will respond with their best music.

—Thirty-five ladies, residents of Versailles, have bought bicycles and any day many or all of them can be seen on the streets. We have been told, in confidence, that several of the fair ones have purchased and wear the bloomer costume, but this far when on the streets use a dress skirt over them. Solid old matter of fact Richmond plods along and indulges in none of the fin-de-siècle movements nor costumes. We never had but one bicyclist and she moved to Texas. Suppose some of those females with bloomer should suddenly appear coming down Main street. Jerry Powell and others of his age, who might chance to see them, would have to be carried home on stretchers.

Easter Services. Several of the churches were beautifully decorated Easter Sunday, notably the Episcopal, at which in the evening a children's service was held. The program was excellent and highly enjoyed by the congregation. We never had but one bicyclist and she moved to Texas. Suppose some of those females with bloomer should suddenly appear coming down Main street. Jerry Powell and others of his age, who might chance to see them, would have to be carried home on stretchers.

—Elder W. F. Smith at the Christian church preached on the Resurrection, to an attentive audience.

—Rev. A. Redd devoted the morning hour to baptisms and ceremonies and in the evening delivered a fine discourse to his hearers.

Infirmary Donations for March. Mrs. T. J. Smith, meal.

Mrs. Hugh White, eggs.
Mrs. E. V. Gibson, milk, buttermilk, soap, molasses, meal, coffee, sugar.
Mrs. Judge Goodloe, eggs.
Mr. John R. Gibson, barrel of flour.
Favors from the CLIMAX.
Mrs. Thos. E. Baldwin, potatoes.
Mrs. Ann Walters, old maulin.
Mrs. D. C. Chenault, old maulin.
Mr. T. J. Hagan, medicine glasses.
Mr. James Smith, food of kindling.
Mr. T. J. Smith, loan of cow.
Mrs. Henry Streng, fruit and vegetables.

FOR COMFORT WARD.

Mrs. Woolstein, comfort.
Mrs. Nathan, towels, pillow slips.
Mrs. Henry Streng, spoons.
Mrs. T. J. Smith, blanket, broom, knives and forks.

A New Name.

The publishers of the Southern Magazine have decided to change the name of that valuable monthly, to the Mid-Continent Magazine.

The publishers, in making the change, are prompted by the belief that a publication to serve any part of a country most effectively should not have even the seeming sectionalism, and a "deference to the fact that a literature of any country is a national literature, and that a strictly literary medium should represent that literature." The name "Southern" Magazine, they thought, should not be so prejudicially local in the publication.

This act is in accord with a suggestion of the CLIMAX made in response to an invitation of the publishers at the time publication was resumed last winter. We believe that the only obstacle is now removed which stood in the way of a successful career for this, the most average periodical. We heartily commend it to our readers North and South as being first-class in every respect.

A Judgment For $50,000 Against the Long-Haired "Messiah" of Rockford. A jury in Judge Dunne's court Tuesday at Chicago, awarded George W. Conroy a judgment for $50,000 damages against Jacob Schweinfurth, the alleged "Messiah" of Rockford, Ill. Conroy charged that the defendant alienated Mrs. Conroy's affections from her husband by inducing her to eat his "heaven."

The jury returned a verdict awarding the full amount asked for. The jury was but a few minutes in reaching the verdict. Schweinfurth's people say he has no money to meet the judgment.

If Jacob should take into his head to come to Kentucky the boys would receive him from his troubles. His life wouldn't be worth saving. Of all the frauds it has ever been our lot to read of, this fellow takes the cake. The people of Illinois are certainly lenient to allow his institution to flourish. There must surely be some law for putting a stop to his vagaries. Come over Jake, make a visit here to the Blue Grass.

Loan Association Attacked.

The Building and Loan Association Committee of the Illinois House to-night adopted a resolution offered by Representative Lowenthal, to investigate the Interstate Building and Loan Association of Bloomington. Mr. Lowenthal addressed the committee at length regarding the Association's condition. He explained that the President of the Association, Adlai E. Stevenson, Vice President of the United States, was in the habit of receiving $200 a month in payment for his services as attorney. He also spoke of the alleged illegal methods employed in issuing shares of stock. The total amount alleged to have been illegally paid went by the association during its existence was said to be $109,000. His resolution recites many instances of alleged violations of the statutes in making loans.

He alleges that the association is maintaining in Chicago an expensive office and agent at a large salary, and that the income from the business of this office does not equal twenty-five per cent of the expenses incurred.

T. J. Dunn, Secretary of the association, who was present, was invited to make a statement. He admitted that the facts regarding money paid Vice President Stevenson and his partner by the association were true, but that the association was in solvent. The association, he said, was solvent to the extent of over $300,000. He justified the payment made to Vice President Stevenson and his partner by a clause in the association's charter, permitting the association to employ any one needed to perform whatever was in its interests. He admitted that Mr. Stevenson, during the period of nine months when he was drawing a monthly salary of $200, had performed no actual services.

After the committee adjourned Mr. Dunn said that Vice President Stevenson never drew any salary from the Association. His law partner, Mr. Ewing, drew a salary for a while as attorney and Dunn supposed that part of the money paid to Ewing went to Mr. Stevenson. —Courier Journal.

Here the Explanation.

We confess that when Ephraim Lillard, of Jessamine county, pulled the plan in the office of Ben Johnson, Collector of Internal Revenue, Louisville District, that our doubts ran in many directions seeking a solution of why Ben should come in as Collector Rodes' district to get a man for the place when there were at least a thousand men in his own district that were eagerly looking for the situation.

When Ben Johnson, Collector of Internal Revenue of the Louisville District, went out of his way and appointed Ephraim Lillard, of Jessamine county, in Collector Rodes' District, Income Tax Collector, it sounded a sensation and a large ray of light was luminately sent.

It was a blank moment on the part of Senator Blackburn, who inspired the appointment, against the Senatorial aspirations of Hon. James B. McCreary, Lillard is expected to nominate and elect a Blackburn man to the Legislature. Sure enough, out comes Mr. Perry, a Blackburn man, against Mr. Wallace, the McCreary candidate, and Ephraim is joined to his idol. It will be one of the hottest contests in the State, but the indications are that Wallace will win. McCreary cannot afford to have it otherwise. The fun, fun and "stuff will fly—particularly the "stuff." The cry is "Lay on Mc and slay him!" he who shall first cry "hold, enough."

"Enough" is an unknown word in the bright lexicon of politics.

I met "Eph" Lillard to-day and asked him how he was getting along collecting on over $1,000 incomes for Uncle Sam's depleted Treasury.

that city with an income of $81,000—pretty stiff for these parts."

There is one man in this, Collector Rodes' district, who will pay on a $10,000 income, less the $4,000 exemption, but it is an inheritance and he will be let off light, if not altogether net clear.—Chas. E. Kincaid in Commercial Gazette.

A Militia Company.

A letter has been received at the CLIMAX office from J. Emory Allen, Major 2d Regiment K. S. G., in which the writer states that there is still another opportunity for Richmond to obtain a Militia Company if organized in a short time. Who, if any of our citizens are interested sufficiently in this matter to take it up and push an organization to completion. There is a great abundance of young men who would delight in belonging to a military company. Call and see the letter at once, if in any way interested.

Obituaries.

On the morning of April 10th, Mr. Silas Green, an old and most highly respected citizen died at 9:10 of pneumonia, aged 84 years. Mr. Green was an energetic business man, having been continuously engaged in some line, from his first manhood; he was a retired banker; a most consistent member of the Christian church, exemplary in all his habits. He was a brother of Irvine T. Green, deceased. Dr. James Green, of Louisville, the son of Sheriff Sidney Green, of Washington county, and of Mrs. Judge Mark Hardin. He was an uncle of F. M. Green, editor of the Register. The funeral services were conducted from the Christian Church and the remains interred in Richmond cemetery.

Phil Thompson, Jr., of Washington, D. C., died at 6 o'clock Monday morning of heart disease, at her home in Harrodsburg.

Circuit Court.

Circuit Court is still in session. Thus far the following are the principal cases that have been before the court.

Wm. Prewett, horse stealing, two years in the penitentiary.

Marcellus Barber, house breaking, one year in the penitentiary.

Frank Walker, (col.) shooting with intent to kill, acquittal. Will select an Ascher Hall, shooting James W. Garrison, fine of $500.

Thomas and Abe Taylor, (col.) brothers of Wm. Taylor, who was hanged in January for the murder of Squire Doty, one and two years each in the penitentiary, for breaking into Jett's distillery.

Henry Jackson one year.

In the case of Mattie Fowler vs. D. F. Sharp, for slander, verdict for plaintiff for $400.

Going to Paris.

Capt. W. S. Wygant, who has charge of the military department of Central University at Richmond, was in the city yesterday, making arrangements to have a competitive drill in Paris, on May 21st, between the two companies of cadets of the University. The drill will likely occur at the fair grounds or Riverside Park. Each company will select as its sponsor a beautiful Richmond society girl, who will in turn select five lovely girls as her maids of honor, and these young ladies, accompanied by all the society folks of Richmond, will come over to attend the drill. The Richmond crowd will be more than two hundred strong. The prize for the victor will be a gold medal, which the winning company will present to its lovely sponsor. It is also likely that a game of baseball will be played between the college team and a Paris club.

Last year the boys and their sponsors visited Versailles and took the tower by storm. They were given a royal reception, and a bountiful basket dinner in a woodland.

The drill in Paris will no doubt be a big event, and our citizens should give the Richmond people a hospitable reception. —Bourbon News.

Gewillians.

The bloomers have reached Richmond. Mr. and Mrs. George Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Ned Pierson, of Cincinnati, left Lexington Saturday at 3:30 p. m., on their tickets, for the purpose of selecting a dress for the new fashion. They were clad in the fin-de-siècle bloomer costumes, and the Leader says attracted general attention of all who were fortunate enough to be on the streets of Lexington. "They came to Lexington Saturday morning by rail," we failed to note their arrival here, and have not seen any persons who look anything like the girls having made the town a visit. Appropos of the above we append a short poetical effusion from the Louisville Times. You can imagine old farmer Program "a-reskin his off eye."

FARMER PROGRAM'S DIVINITY.

I seen to-day, Marlar, a b'g'ed down the lane, A funny sort creature which I hope I met again. She'd one of them cybers that don't make any noise.

Aw, then my heart! Marlar, who was dressed up like the boys.

She came along cavalier! 'Just as a yearling! sports, A'ubertin! but trusses—ah! she wore divided skirts.

Her skirts they were divided, I think I said so first, Ye outer seen, Marlar, the ground she kneeered o'er, A'ubertin! o'er the ponds, a humpin' o'er them wheels.

Aw! cuttin' up them capers that sorter brings appeals.

Two persons like yer Isaac, who kain't no sorter limb.

Two just like a passin' vision I glanced at on the sky.

White hid behind the rail fence 'n' a'inkin my off eye. H. S. KELLER.

Resolutions of Respect.

To the Master Wardens and brethren of Bibb Lodge No. 388 F. & A. M. at Millers Creek, Ky.

It was with profound regret that we are called upon to pay our last tribute of respect to our esteemed and beloved brother, E. C. Neal, who died on the 1st day of April, 1895, after suffering but a few minutes, from a pistol shot. He was in the prime of his life, being 28 years of age. His death is a great loss to the community and to the Masonic fraternity of which he was an honored member. His death was a shock to his many friends and a painful regret to the brotherhood. He will be sadly missed by the craft and the community in which he lived. Brother Neal was a kind husband, a devoted father and a friend to those who associated with him. Therefore he is remembered. "Bible" went north on an afternoon train.

John M. Crawford, of Broadhead, is in Richmond. James I. White has returned from a trip to Richmond, Winchester and Lexington. J. D. Burchell, of Silver Creek, seeking in the Commercial. Closed for cash.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the subject of

Rev. A. Redd, son of our townsmen,

Bibb Lodge and the proceedings published in the Richmond CLIMAX and in the Masonic Home Journal, and also a copy be furnished the family of the deceased.

A. G. POWELL, JAS. PRYSE, J. S. HARRIS, J. H. THOMAS, Committee.

J. A. S. ESTES, Sec'y.

—As announced last week the W. C. T. U. District Convention will be held in Richmond, beginning Wednesday, April 24.

A list of all the topics to be considered has been furnished every Union so that all can be prepared to add something of interest to each subject.

As announced the first night meeting will be the welcome and responses. This puts everybody in good humor, and we are ready to settle down to solid work, for the day sessions.

Thursday night the audience will be addressed by Mrs. F. E. Beauchamp, of Lexington, who is well known by the white ribbons of the State and now assistant secretary of the National.

Friday night we have secured Mrs. Henrietta Skelton, one of the National organizers, and indefatigable workers. For many years she has been doing most successful work in various states.

At our convention we must plan to retain her services in our district while it is possible. The President of the Covington district writes me most favorably of the work she has done there and desires others to have the same great benefit. The cause certainly needs the upholding.

Let our white ribbons, remembering the source of our strength, come to the convention buoyed up by the unseen arm.

In behalf of the Executive Committee. Mrs. L. M. DODGE, Cor. Sec'y.

R. N. L. & B. will sell round trip tickets to Louisville May 28 to 30 at one fare for the round trip, account Annual Convention King's Daughters. 45-47
